INCREASES IN GRAIN QUOTAS ARE ALLOWED

Wheat Delivery 10 Bushels Per Acre—Oat Restriction Removed

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—Increases in wheat delivery quotas at 37 trade points and removal of the quota on oats, effective today, were announced Monday by the Canadian Wheat Board.

The increases brought wheat delivery quotas up to 10 bushels for oats and one bushel of oats while in others it advanced delivery quotas to 10 bushels per acre. The original quotas, applicable throughout the western grain belt, restricted wheat and oats and barley to five bushels a acre and oats to one bushel.

The board announcement added that farmers will no longer be required to have delivery of oats reported in permit books.

ALBERTA QUOTAS
In Saskatchewan, quotas at the following points have been increased from five to 10 bushels per acre: Assiniboia, Regina, Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Yorkton, Estevan, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Melfort, Nanton, Okotoks, and Swift Current.

Barley companies have been accused by the board of not applying for landing permits at points along the five-bushel quota to obtain a fair proportion of available permits for grain shipments to Lakehead ports.

DELIVERING EXPLAINED
An official explained the purpose of this ruling was to permit farmers to market wheat at points along the five-bushel quota to obtain a fair proportion of available permits for grain shipments to Lakehead ports.

The quota had been increased only at points with available acreage for more grain than the five-bushel quota.

"It must be distinctly understood that farmers are not to expect a change from the delivery point already specified on their permits," the board said.

The quota on barley deliveries was removed Sept. 3.

DEFENCE SITES IN WEST CANADA FOR U. S. HINTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—A possible hint that defence sites in Canada would be made available to the United States today from Mayor Fiorelli H. La Guardia of New York.

The chairman of the American-American joint defence board, Mr. La Guardia said that he was not free but that the board's work was the gift of nature for the defense of our two continents.

"I am confident," he added, "that by the time we have a final agreement with the dictators of Europe and the dictators of Asia, we will have a final agreement with the dictators of Europe and the dictators of Asia."

There has been speculation that a United States naval base, possibly a highway from the United States to Alaska through British Columbia, figured in the conversation.

Any such deal, it is believed, might involve payment to Canada in the form of military supplies.

After conferring with President Roosevelt last week, Mayor La Guardia declared that negotiations are under way for transfer of military supplies to Canada—more than 100,000 tons of supplies.

He said that the United States was not yet in a position to decide whether there was any connection between the supplies and the defense of the air and naval bases.

NO EARLY RAISE IN AGE LIMIT OF AIR PILOTS

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—With a large number of applications for enlistment from men under 20, the Royal Canadian Air Force has decided not to raise the age limit to 18.

A decision from London Monday said the air ministry was not to raise the age limit to 18 for enlistment to serve as pilots, air gunners and radio operators and had raised the maximum age limit from 20 to 25.

The age limit in Canada is 20 and recruits are being taken on at the rate of about 100 a week. Possibly the third of this number will receive pilot training.

Every Air Force recruiting unit in Canada, however, has a large number of names of men within the present age limit who wish to serve in the air force.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—Delegates to the annual convention of the American Labor Congress of Laborers Monday ran into initial difficulties when, soon after President R. STUDENTS TO TRAIN AFTER SCHOOL YEAR

Must Spend Two Weeks in Military Camp End of Term

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Canadian students in the age groups called under the mobilization act for military training, will spend two weeks in military training camps after the completion of their school year, according to an agreement reached Monday night among the departments of defence and national service and the Canadian University Conference.

Announcing the agreement, Service Minister J. G. Gardiner pointed out that under the war service regulations, students are liable to be called under the first draft. This postponement, however, did not relieve them of obligation to be called thereafter for 30 days' military training.

Students will be required to attend camp for two weeks, in order that they may have training equivalent to that of the department of defence to those who take the 30 days' military training.

All universities have agreed to give compulsory military training to students over 18 years of age. The training will be given in the form of a 30-day training period.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Dorothy Dix: As a father of five, I am much interested in the problem of my youngsters in their teens who have good homes and loving parents, are so anxious to get away from them. To be on their own as they capsize it. Every day we read in the papers of adolescent boys who have deserted, and we all know that just as soon as they are released get out of college they are no longer satisfied to stay at home with Mother and Father. How do you explain this situation? What do you think can be done to correct it?

H. R. A.

Answer: I think that more children leave home because they are nurtured with love and tenderness than because they are tyrannized over.

Mother is so afraid her petted darlings will get their feet wet or won't eat their spinach that she watches over their every movement and deprives them of every particle of personal liberty. And this is the one thing that we all want more than anything else on earth is freedom.

Of course, the main reason that adolescent children run away from home is because of the craving for love. They think that in every way possible they can get away from having to share behind their ears every morning and not have to go to school, they will live a life of glorious excitement and have nothing to do but amuse themselves.

They have no idea that they will have to endure hardships, hunger and cold, and loneliness and despair as they have never imagined.

Perhaps there is no cure for the dreams of youth but experience. I think that if parents would make more effort than they do to let their children start early in some constructive work and let them do it their own way, instead of standing over them and telling them every move to make it would bring a lot of their youngsters' superfluous energy and initiative, and therefore make them more content to stay at home.

Make Sure Your Kitchen Assumes Efficiency Basis

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

The household kitchen is an industrial unit. The often repeated statement that industry must play its full part in our new national policy for defence means that not only every large industrial company but also every individual kitchen must go on a 100 per cent efficiency basis.

It is a wise homemaker who equips her kitchen with efficient pots and pans of metal before any possible increase in the defence mobilization in the defence.

FAST LONDON REVEALS FEW BOMB SCARS

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A collection of names of streets where bombs had dropped in London during the last three days reads like a map of London. But it was still possible, nevertheless, to drive for miles through the main London districts and find no signs of any damage.

Illustratively, one member of the British United Press staff was in a taxi this morning through the Strand and First Street, the main thoroughfare of the city—and saw only one evidence of damage. That was to a building which had been set alight by an incendiary.

Nazis Happy To Be Prisoners

These German soldiers appear to be in a happy frame of mind despite their capture by the British. The war is over for them, unless a Nazi bomb happens to hit their internment camp.

Not Anti-Aircraft—Just "Sun-Gun"

This looks like a super-scientific anti-aircraft cannon, but the device—a special lensless camera—"shoots" the sun, instead of planes. With it, a group of nine U.S. scientists, now en route to Brazil, will snap the October 1 eclipse of the sun. Shown operating the "sun-gun" are expedition members Arthur Hoag, Brown University astronomy student, left, and Dr. Charles Smith, foreground, Brown astronomy expert. At rear are W. Edwin Stevens, left, and J. Frank Morray, amateur astronomer.

BOMBERS OVER LONDON

This is the heart of London—and of the British Empire—as it might be seen from the cockpit of a raiding German bomber.

The big Thames, in the center of the drawing, is flowing north towards the Thames.

Behind it a two-engine Messerschmitt pursuit plane is attacking down one of the balloon barrages "fat friends" which, with their trailing cables, have plagued raiders.

For up in the sky a flight of British Hurricane fighters climbs to meet the invaders.

The Thames, which cuts the city in two from east to west, is shown for a stretch of nine or ten miles. It is navigable by ocean-going ships as far as the Tower bridge.

Below that tall structure are the docks and shipping basins that have been a primary objective of German attack.

Just above the bridge is the old London Tower built nearly 900 years ago by William the Conqueror to hold London against all comers.

Today no stone tower is going to hold back invaders from over the sea, but the Royal Air Force and anti-aircraft artillerymen are doing a good job of substituting for castle and moat.

The heart of the old city lies about the land where the river is crossed by eight bridges. There, Parliament buildings loom up plainly.

Further to the right is the City district where British finance and commerce flourish.

In the heart of the river nearby are the Southwark steam docks.

Nearly all the land in sight with the exception of some of that fading away towards the farther horizon, is thickly populated.

British Bombers Score Hits On Berlin

A German fireman looks into the wreckage of a building on Kottbuser Strasse, Berlin, less than two miles from Wilhelmstrasse, where German government buildings are located. This building and others in the vicinity were bombed by British airmen retaliating for German bombings of London.

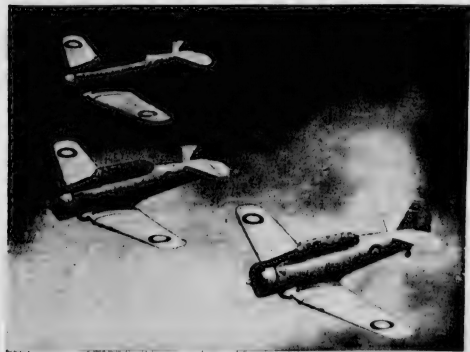

French Fight On In England

Infantrymen of the "Free French Forces" led by General De Gaulle are seen co-operating with British mechanized units during recent manoeuvres "somewhere in southern England," as they, with British, prepare to repel Nazi bids.

Canada's Highest Registration Booth

Probably the highest national registration bureau in all Canada was that set up at Asiniboine Camp as Banff National Park, Canadian Rockies. Under the shadow of Mount Asiniboine, 12,000 feet, at an elevation of 7,000 feet, Registrar "Chuck" Miller, foreman cowboy of the camp, had a two-story garage and employees. Through the courtesy of the national registration officers at Banff, Ewing Stram, owner of the camp, arranged for the sky-high bureau. Otherwise it would have been necessary to close the camp while everyone tramped to Banff, nearest registration station, a two-day trip by pack train.

Student Instructors Practice Formation Flying

Three student instructors at Central Flying school, Trenton, Ontario, maintain a light three-plane formation high among the clouds. Formation flying is part of the advanced training given to students at Central Flying school before they are posted to British Commonwealth air training establishments to pass on their knowledge to student pilots of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Looking Them Over

Needless Worry

THERE will be football in Edmonton this fall—a City Junior League of football and basketball and possibly hockey. And definite arrangements are to be made out at a meeting on the main floor of the Edmonton Sports Bazaar Club. The object is to throw over the situation carefully and adopt a program that will give the maximum support.

Just when it began to look as if the greatest opportunity ever offered here for junior football would be allowed to pass by, Burchell and other kindred enthusiasts have stepped forward and started things rolling.

Wednesday's meeting is open to everyone interested in football. Those behind the move for a city league are especially anxious to have a large attendance of fans and members of the Edmonton Sports Bazaar Club. The object is to throw over the situation carefully and adopt a program that will give the maximum support.

Those behind the move for a city league are especially anxious to have a large attendance of fans and members of the Edmonton Sports Bazaar Club. The object is to throw over the situation carefully and adopt a program that will give the maximum support.

It is hoped that it will be such as will permit him to enter a team of the Grizzlies in the fall, or at least play some games.

It is believed that such a junior league carried on during the winter will give a foundation that would enable the Eskimos to reenter the Western Conference with very few stars.

Flyers Get Good One

LAST night President Ben Sauer of the Flyers club announced that he had completed arrangements that would bring Gordon "Smash" Sauer to Edmonton to play for the Flyers when winter comes time to think of ice and hockey.

Sauer, who is a defenseman, 21 years old, 190 pounds and six feet one inch tall. Last winter he played with the Greyhounds in London, England. His playing record in Manitoba indicates that he will be a mighty useful man behind the Edmonton blue line.

And that brings back the question of what likely he will be when in action when the time finally comes to grill your teeth and make up your mind whether winter is here to stay.

There seems to be a lot of groundswell getting behind just now in some hockey circles. Actually there is no reason to expect that the city will interfere with the operation of a four-team city league in Edmonton—Edmonton, Calgary, Turner Valley and Leduc. The public opinion for it is here and Ottawa has gone on record as specifically wanting that an effort be made to carry on sport.

The question of military hockey seems to have some of the boys a bit crazy. It is unquestionably of major importance as an army recreation factor, but I think it would be a mistake to attempt to replace senior hockey with army hockey. And there will be many who will be able to field a team capable of holding its own in senior company and holding public interest, but there will not be many.

During the past few or 10 years, senior hockey in Alberta has become big business requiring the services of financiers and club officials. It is not likely to be found in many army units in the province. Furthermore, it is very difficult for an army team to go through a long playoff schedule involving long trips.

It seems that the army will not take on hockey as an amateur form of recreation. The army would be interested in hockey as a means of raising money for the war effort. It is possible that many units will be able to do this as a means of raising money for the war effort. The army will get the maximum benefit from hockey by playing hockey for recreational purposes in non-military leagues with prizes and small schedule of games between the different battalions in the province.

Injuries Rob Yankees Of Henrich's .300 Hitting

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Injuries, which wrecked the National League's pennant competition this year, now are likely to decide the freest fight in the American League. The world champion Yankees learned Monday that Tommy Henrich would be lost for the rest of the season because of torn ligaments in his left knee, hurt Saturday.

Henrich, who is the best defensive rightfielder in the league, has been hitting .300 since he was traded from the Boston Red Sox to the Yankees in June. He is the only player in the league who has hit .300 or better since the trade.

Henrich's injury is a serious one. He is expected to be out for the rest of the season. This will be a big blow to the Yankees, who are looking for a pennant in 1941.

McNEILL LIFTS SINGLES CROWN FROM BOB RIGGS

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Don McNeill is the new United States singles champion. The Oklahoma City sensation, 22 years old, who always leads the national play courts championship and the intermediate title, pounced his way to a popular victory over defending champion Bobby Rigg before a gallery of 7,500 at Forest Hills Monday.

Down two sets and with his opponent game apparently at its peak, Don made a wild comeback as any sport could wish. He showed himself in the world, Bobby Rigg as he wanted him and finally triumphed, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Standing alongside McNeill on the podium of American tennis for the third year in a row and the fourth time in his career is Althea Marble. She turned back the eighth bid of Helen Hull Jacobs, herself a former national champion, to be again the first woman to win the title.

Butch has 11 wins this year. He is a two-year-old boy and of Princeton, when his 11th victory of the year Monday by taking the opening round in the Reading fair opened circuit meeting.

Guided by Martin N. Hawk, New York, Pa. and driven by Delmar Miller, Butch won the two halves of the event without difficulty. He won the slow track race in 2:14 and 2:14. The race for Canadian-born drivers was won by 25.15.

The boat turned over and Butch came second. He is a two-year-old boy and of Princeton, when his 11th victory of the year Monday by taking the opening round in the Reading fair opened circuit meeting.

Indians Beaten 2-1 By Chicago Cousins

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A battle royal for the American league pennant brought the four foremost teams into a finish fight today, but the collapsible Cleveland Indians couldn't wait.

Yesterday they abandoned the lead to Detroit by dropping a 2-1 decision to Chicago White Sox.

While all the other clubs in this round were off, the Indians under took to gain an edge over their rival by playing their "couple" in two previous games. But Lefty Thomas, the last American star who has been hit by a home run in 21 previous games, did it today.

Does This Remind You Of Anything?

If you are one of Alberta's thousands of duck hunters the above scene will remind you that it is time you get going around with such level things as business, thrashing, medicine or legal matters and get your outfit together for opening day of the duck shooting season. There's more of 'em than ever.
